SCULPTURE HONORING THE SEMINOLE TRIBE OF FLORIDA'S EIGHT CLANS TO BE UNVEILED AT SEMINOLE CASINO IMMOKALEE, AUG. 5

Public is invited to the ceremony; private reception to follow debuting the new menu of the casino's EE-TO-LEET-KE Grill

IMMOKALEE, Fla. – Seminole Casino Immokalee is pleased to announce the unveiling of a new sculpture by local artist Tim Parker, honoring the Seminole Tribe of Florida's eight clans. The ceremony commence on Fri., Aug. 5 at 1:30 p.m.

A private tasting reception will follow to debut the new fresh-from-scratch classic favorites menu of the casino's EE-TO-LEET-KE Grill ("The Camp" in the Seminole language).

The permanent fixture, titled Unconquered Spirits, depicts the eight different clans within the Seminole Tribe of Florida, including Wind, Bird, Panther, Otter, Bear, Snake, Deer and Big Town, on several different levels in a semi-abstract style. The 3-D semi-abstract painting will be suspended from the ceiling inside the new Paradise Room high-limit area in Seminole Casino Immokalee.

"We are thrilled to recognize the immeasurable progress made by the Seminole Tribe of Florida, while showcasing artist Tim Parker's extraordinary creative talents at Seminole Casino Immokalee," said James Gibson, director of marketing at Seminole Casino Immokalee. "This sculpture will serve as a significant symbol of the Tribe's heritage for our guests."

Parker is a Naples-based artist who creates classical paintings, tropical themed pieces and contemporary abstract art. He received a degree in art from Parsons School of Design in New York City and a MFA at Adelphi University. His work has been featured at several galleries across South Florida and can be found in many luxury residences throughout the area.

"It was an honor to create artwork for the Seminole Casino in Immokalee depicting the unconquered spirit of the Seminole Tribe clans which continue to thrive in the modern world. As an artist, a unique installation piece is a dream job and for me, the larger the better. This has 16 different sections, is more than 30 feet wide when all hung together, and two-sided. I am quite pleased with the final results and would like to thank the folks at the casino for giving me the creative freedom and opportunity” said Parker.
